WOMEN WANTED

for the ADA DEVELOPERS ACADEMY

Ada Developers Academy is a yearlong software developer training program, exclusively for women.

ADA MISSION: close the gender pay gap (in Seattle, women earn 73 cents for every $1 earned by men) by bringing more women into computing (only 15% of programmers are women).

 Looking for women who are technically oriented.

NO EXPERIENCE IN SOFTWARE PROGRAMMING NECESSARY.

 Entry-level programming jobs in the Seattle area begin at around $70,000.

Seattle companies have more technical job openings than qualified candidates (70% of the 20,000 unfilled STEM jobs in Washington state are for Computer Science related positions).

 Applications due Monday, September 30th, 2013, by 5:00pm.

Class begins October 28th, 2013. If you are accepted, tuition is free.
